The screenshot shows a web browser at the URL tpc.education/en/lesson/nofota-exam/. The page features a purple and blue header with the text "NOFOTA Trading Rules Test". Below the header, there is a message: "NOFOTA stands for Netherlands Oils, Fats and Oilseeds Trade Association, being the Dutch umbrella-organisation of companies concerned with the production, consumption and trade of these commodities. It draws up standard contracts, which are of international usage (NOFOTA Trading Rules latest version (as from 1 July 2019)). Moreover it provides a mechanism for the settlement of disputes by its arbitration institute. NOFOTA was founded in Rotterdam on 1 October 1918 as 'Nederlandsche Bond voor den Handel in Vetten, Olieën en Oliezaden', the final name change to 'Netherlands Oils, Fats and Oilseeds Trade Association' (NOFOTA) became a fact in 1977. This was a consequence of the international character of the trade and the 'players' involved in the trade in various European countries. Please click the button below to start your exam. Upon completion you will be awarded a certificate of completion that you can present as proof of passing the test. We wish you good luck!" The NOFOTA logo is displayed. A green message box says: "✓ Congratulations! You have passed this lesson's quiz achieving 52%". Below this, a pink button labeled "Proceed to the exam" is circled in red.
